

Delta Lloyd Algemeen Pensioenfonds awarded licence to operate

The Dutch Central Bank has awarded Delta Lloyd Algemeen Pensioenfonds (Delta Lloyd APF) a licence to administrate a general pension fund. Delta Lloyd APF will start operating immediately; its mission is to provide pension funds with a solution to the increasing regulatory burden and administrative pressures. The fund is also an appealing and affordable proposition for employers who offer defined benefit schemes. Delta Lloyd APF puts their participants central and offers digital and efficient pension administration.

Delta Lloyd APF wants to offer its members the best possible pension, both now and in the future. It lets its members view their comprehensive pension provision online and shows them how they can manipulate their future assets. Delta Lloyd APF also provides professional asset management services and allows members to improve their returns because fees are low. The fund makes use of a new and future-proof pension administration system and all its processes are digitally enabled.

Independent foundation

Delta Lloyd APF is a foundation with an independent board. The board members are Rudolf Hagendijk, Haitse Hoos and Lucie Duynstee.

Outsourcing partners

Delta Lloyd APF's outsourcing partners are Delta Lloyd Life and Delta Lloyd Asset Management. Delta Lloyd Life is responsible for the back office, and communicating with and providing services to customers and advisers. Delta Lloyd has long-standing experience in the pension market. This year, independent financial advisers rated Delta Lloyd the best pension insurer for the fourth consecutive year.

Delta Lloyd Asset Management is responsible for all asset management services offered by Delta Lloyd APF. It provides services to multiple pension funds and its assets under management totalled about € 74 billion in the first half of 2016.
